APPEAL TO SPONSORS

Dear Friends of Horticulture for Africa's Development,

After two years of planning and discussion, Kenya has agreed to host the first All Africa Horticulture Congress (AAHC) late in 2009. Organizing and hosting an All Africa Horticultural Congress was judged to be a key step in revitalising the potential for horticulture and horticultural science in Africa and strengthening the voice of this continent in the International Society of Horticultural Science (ISHS). This Congress is being coordinated by the Global Horticultural Initiative (GlobalHort), and the host institution is the Kenya Agricultural Research Institute (KARI). Its organization is being coordinated with several organizations from all over Africa (national research, industry and international organizations).

The Congress will be held at the Safari Park Hotel, Nairobi, Kenya, from 31st August to 3rd September 2009. The congress will feature plenary sessions with keynote speakers, moderated forums, exhibitions, parallel seminars and field visits. This Congress is aimed at bring together national and international organizations both in public and private sector which are involved in horticulture in Africa, to discuss global trends in research, industry, and policy, that will significantly affect the future of African populations and environments. Stakeholders will also consider how All African Horticulture Congress will become a recurring event. The themes of the 2009 Congress will address how horticultural crops are and shall continue to be naturally grown under the sun in Africa through:

- Food Security & Food Safety
- Human Health, Nutrition & Lifestyle Horticulture
- Environment & Natural Resources Management
- Socio-economic Issues: Poverty Alleviation & Wealth Creation
- International Trade: Opportunities & Challenges

The Congress organizers urgently appeal for financial support in order to achieve a broad participation of all sectors of horticulture in Africa. We urgently appeal to Development partners, Governments and private sector organizations to consider supporting this initiative. Horticulture is an economic mainstay of millions of farmers in Africa, and is critical for ensuring dietary diversity and nutritional security. In the past 20 years, Africa has participated more effectively in global export trade through horticulture than any other agricultural commodity. Horticulture is Africa's real chance of participating in globalization process, and this Congress is aimed at rejuvenating and promoting this capacity.

Donors can choose from various options. These include:
